McCain Library Under Construction

Construction of McCain Library and Archives, home to University Libraries' Special Collections, began on Monday, May 13. This project will improve the structure of the building and provide updates to the building's exterior.

During construction, Special Collections will be open normal operating hours, however, access to a small number of collections could be impacted.

Until further notice, please enter the building using the north entrance, opposite Cook Library.

Depending on the weather, the project is expected to be complete by December 2019. For your safety, please be observant of construction equipment in the area, and stay outside of the boundaries of the fence.

If you have questions, please contact Lorraine Stuart, head of Special Collections and curator of historical manuscripts and archives, at Lorraine.Stuart@usm.edu or 601.266.4117.

Special Collections Item of the Month

Each month, University Libraries' Special Collections highlights an item from its collections. This month, we are featuring a book commemorating the wedding anniversary of Franz Joseph I and his wife. To learn more about this time, click here, or visit the Special Collections page and click Item of the Month. If you have any questions, contact Jennifer Brannock at Jennifer.Brannock@usm.edu or 601.266.4347.

Materials about Tourism on the Gulf Coast Displayed in Exhibit

Featuring brochures, hotel advertisements, seafood restaurant menus, and other materials from Special Collections, “Scenic South: Tourism on the Gulf Coast” reveals a colorful glimpse of recreation, vacation, and family fun over the years.

This exhibit will be on display in the Cook Library lobby through June during library hours.

If you have questions about the exhibit or the collections, contact Hali Black at Hali.Black@usm.edu or 601.266.4255.
