JONES AND BRANNOCK RECEIVE UNIVERSITY AWARDS

JESSE H. MORRISON AWARD

Lisa Jones, head of Library Technology, is the 2022 recipient of the Jessie H. Morrison Award, the highest honor a staff member can receive from the University. This award recognizes a staff member that exhibits exemplary commitment and dedication toward their position and the University. The recipient demonstrates integrity, a positive attitude toward work responsibilities, co-workers and customers, serves as a role model for others, takes initiative and carries out additional responsibilities beyond regular job assignments for the good of the campus community and have a team player attitude.

AUBREY KEITH LUCAS AND ELLA GINN LUCAS ENDOWMENT FOR FACULTY EXCELLENCE AWARD

Jennifer Brannock, curator of rare books and Mississippiana, is a 2022 recipient of an Aubrey Keith Lucas and Ella Ginn Lucas Endowment for Faculty Excellence Award. The award supports work on her pending publication, Con Sellers, Masculinity, and the Publishing Industry: Lowbrow Publications in Midcentury America. The book, which is the culmination of her collection development and research efforts over the past several years, will further elevate the academic profile of Special Collections.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES WELCOMES NEW RESEARCH FELLOW

Funded by a grant from the Jimmy A. Payne Foundation, University Libraries welcomed its newest research services fellow on May 18. Charles Atwell will be completing the three-month fellowship at Gulf Coast Library under the supervision of Jamie Stanfield, business and health librarian and online learning coordinator.

Atwell graduated with his Master of Library and Information Science in December 2020. He also has a Bachelor of Arts in history from Southern Miss. Atwell previously worked as an adjunct librarian at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and a part-time reference librarian at Gulf Coast Library.
