THE 46TH ANNUAL FAY B. KAIGLER
CHILDREN'S BOOK FESTIVAL

On April 10-12, 2013, the School of Library and Information Science will host the 46th Annual Fay B. Kaigler Children's Book Festival at the Southern Miss Thad Cochran Center. Each year more than 500 teachers and librarians from across the nation come to The University of Southern Mississippi to hear major speakers and participate in concurrent sessions and workshops as authors, illustrators and experts in the field share their knowledge and experience. The highlight of the festival is the presentation of the Southern Miss Medallion, awarded to an author or illustrator for his or her body of work.

2013 Southern Miss Medallion recipient JON SCIESZKA graduated from Albion College in 1976 and obtained his MFA from Columbia in 1980. His first book, The True Story of the Three Little Pigs, was published in 1989. This book, as well as The Stinky Cheese Man and Other Fairly Stupid Tales, Math Curse and Robot Zot have won multiple awards. Scieszka is the founder of Guys Read, a literacy program designed to help boys become self-motivated, lifelong readers. He was named the first National Ambassador for Young People's Literature by the Library of Congress in 2008. He has also been a teacher of first through eighth grade. He lives in Brooklyn, N.Y., with his wife Jeri and two children, Casey and Jake.

Outstanding authors and illustrators scheduled to appear include the following:

CANDACE FLEMING awarded herself the Newbery Medal in fifth grade after scraping the gold sticker off the class copy of The Witch of Blackbird Pond and pasting it onto her first novel—a 10-page, 10-chapter mystery called Who Done It? She's been collecting awards (her own, not Elizabeth George Speare's) ever since. Today, Fleming is the acclaimed author of numerous books for children, including Ben Franklin's Almanac, an ALA Notable Book and an ALA Best Book for Young Adults, as well as Munch! Munch! Munch!, Gabriella's Song and When Agnes Caws, all ALA Notable Books. She lives in a suburb of Chicago.

KATHLEEN T. HORNING is the director of the Cooperative Children's Book Center of the School of Education at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She is the author of From Cover to Cover: Evaluating and Reviewing Children's Books (revised edition: HarperCollins, 2010). She co-authored Multicultural Literature for Children and Young Adults, 1980-90, and Multicultural Literature for Children and Young Adults, 1991-96. Horning is a past-president of the Association for Library Service to Children (ALSC) of the American Library Association (ALA).

TED AND BETSY LEWIN are writers and illustrators that have collaborated on a number of books. The first, Gorilla Walk, was named a Smithsonian Notable Book. Since then, they have collaborated on four other books, including the award-winning Horse Song. Each is also independently the author and/or illustrator of a number of books. Betsy Lewin's most recent books include You Can Do It! and Where Is Tippy Toes?, and she has illustrated a number of books, including the Click, Clack, Moo series. Ted Lewin recently authored Look! and Stable and illustrated The World's Greatest Lion (Ralph Helfer) and The Longest Night (Marion Dane Bauer).

GRACE LIN is the author and illustrator of picture books, early readers and middle grade novels. Lin's 2010 Newbery Honor book, Where the Mountain Meets the Moon, was chosen for Al Roker's Today Show Kid's Book Club and was a New York Times Bestseller. Ling & Ting, Grace's first early reader, was honored with the Theodor Geisel Honor in 2011. Starry River of the Sky, her most recent book, was released in October 2012. An Astrid Lindgren Memorial Award nominee for the U.S., most of Lin's books are about the Asian-American experience because she believes, "Books erase bias; they make the uncommon every day and the mundane exotic. A book makes all cultures universal."

WENDELL MINOR is the illustrator of many award-winning picture books for children, such as Mojave by Diane Siebert, Abe Lincoln Remembers by Ann Turner, The Seashore Book by Charlotte Zolotow and Reaching for the Moon by Buzz Aldrin, as well as numerous books about the outdoors with his frequent collaborator, Jean Craighead George, including Luck: The Story of a Sandhill Crane. The Minors live in Connecticut, where they share their home and studio with their cats Sofie and Cindercat. Wendell's latest title is If You Spent a Day with Thoreau at Walden Pond.

ERIC ROHMANN received a Caldecott Honor in 1999 for Time Flies and the 2003 Caldecott Medal for My Friend Rabbit. Besides being an author, Rohmann is also a painter and a former teacher. When asked why he writes and illustrates children's books, Rohmann answers, "Children are the best audience: they are curious, enthusiastic, impulsive, generous and pleased by simple joys. They laugh easily at the ridiculous and are willing to believe the absurd." Rohmann lives in Chicago, Illinois.

TROUT FISHING IN AMERICA has more than 30 years of unique musical experience, capped by their most recent release, a children's book/CD combo entitled Chicken Joe Forgets Something Important. Over their musical career, they have been nominated for four Grammys, as well as being nominated for numerous other awards. They have been featured on the Today Show, NPR's All Things Considered and The Dr. Demento Show, among others.

The Fay B. Kaigler Children's Book Festival is proud to host the Ezra Jack Keats Book Awards.

Since 1985, the Ezra Jack Keats Book Award has been given to an outstanding new writer and new illustrator of picture books for children who share Ezra's values—the universal qualities of childhood and the multicultural nature of our world. Now in partnership with the de Grummond Children's Literature Collection the EJK Book Award continues to encourage the next generation of talent who are committed to celebrating diversity through their writing and art.
