Data Gathering Instrument:
Environmental Scan for Scholarly Communications – Part One

The Scholarly Communications Collaborative is gathering data that will inform liaison on their work with faculty on author’s rights issues and their departments in general and also help identify faculty champions who can join with us in advocating for change in the scholarly communication system. Toward these ends, the Collaborative asks all liaisons to gather the following information from each of their departments (i.e. from each one of your subject areas on the Subject Librarians and Department Liaisons list at http://www.lib.umn.edu/site-selector.shtml). We would appreciate your response by August 15.

You have two options for submitting your response:

* Complete this print form and mail it to George Swan, 170B Wilson Library

Or -

* Complete the form online at: https://wiki.lib.umn.edu/ScholarlyCommunication/SurveyPartOne

[Note: a second phase of data gathering will follow in Fall Semester; a preview of the questions under consideration is appended (adapted from an instrument developed for the ACRL/ARL Scholarly Communications Institutes). It is not to be filled out at this time; it is included purely as an FYI.]

Thank you very much for your help!

Modifications

- Pared down to two-pages
- Divided into three steps
- Reduced involvement from Departments
- Aimed at orienting liaisons with OA issues and tools
Three-Step Process

• Step One: Overview
  • Completed by liaisons
  • DOAJ, SherpaRomeo, Simmons Repository Wiki, JCR/SJR

• Step Two: Analyze
  • Completed by select liaisons
  • Faculty CVs

• Step Three: Interview
  • Completed by liaisons with OA Committee involvement
  • Interview with department heads or library reps
Resources Available

Step One

Challenges

• Problems with definitions (OA options)
  • Gold (fully OA journal)
  • Hybrid (some OA articles in a subscription journals)
  • Green (OA by way of archiving pre- and post-prints)
• Institutional adoption
• Competing priorities
• Response rate (27 Departments out of 50+)
Future Steps

1. Meeting with liaisons to gather further feedback
2. Choosing departments for Step Two and Three
   • Disciplines that are counter-intuitive
     • STEM with no OA options
     • Arts & Humanities that do have OA options
   • Disciplines suggested by liaisons
3. Investigating fields that do not have disciplinary repositories
Thank you!
